District Court Sittings

Judge Lees Holds Court Which Lasts from Tuesday Until Monday.

Sittings of the district court were held in the court house here last week with His Honor Judge Lees presiding. The first case, which was heard on Tuesday was Lee vs. Clouston. This was an action in which the accused was tried on a charge of stealing three loads of wheat from a granary of one William H. Lee of Tisdale. After the taking of the evidence, which lasted all day, the accused was acquitted. H.H. Robertson of Edmonton for defendant; W.H. Odell for crown.

On Wednesday morning the action of Ward vs. Utas was taken up. His Honor Judge Lees presided over the hearing. This case arose over a horse deal between the plaintiff, who is a horse dealer, and the defendant who is a farmer living some twenty miles away from the city. When His Honor summed up the case, he remarked that the action was unique in its character inasmuch as it seemed to be a case of the farmer putting it over the horse dealer, instead of the horse dealer putting it over the farmer.

Judgment reserved. Watt & Watt for the plaintiff; W.H. Odell for the defendant.

Olson vs. Johnson was a wage case. Plaintiff engaged defendant as a farm laborer and made three separate agreements with him, the last of which was that he should work for the year for $850. Sometimes in the early months of the present year he informed the defendant that he would quit his employment at the end of the month, which was only five days' notice. When this announcement was made, the employer said nothing, and this by his silence, the court held, acquiesced in the termination of the agreement. The plaintiff was given for the plaintiff for $192.26 and costs.

Canadian Credit Men's Association vs. Swanson—Defendant was sued for $40, the price of two shares of stock in the plaintiff's company, and defendant, on the ground of fraud and misrepresentation in obtaining the subscription. Judgment for amount claimed with costs. R. W. Knapp for plaintiff; A. Knox for defendant.

National Manufacturing Co. vs. Shearer—This was an action to recover the price of a cream separator sold

Municipal Matters

Ald. Ellis Accepts Nomination As Mayor. Who Will Be Candidates for Alderman and School Trustees?

Monday night is nomination day, when Mr. B. Roberts, returning officer, will be at the council chamber from the hours of ten o'clock until noon for the purpose of receiving nominations for the offices of mayor, three aldermen, two public school trustees and three separate school trustees. As we intimated last week, Ald. Ellis has accepted to the wishes of the petitioners, and has given his consent to be a candidate for the mayor's chair. He is the only candidate who has definitely announced himself for the official position.

It now appears as though there will not be a dearth of candidates for the honors (and responsibilities) of aldermen, as several names have now been mentioned as likely candidates. D. L. Hobbs and A. Rippon, have definitely announced their intentions of accepting nominations. The friends of Ald. Enman are insistent that he reconsider his determination to withdraw from municipal life, while it is generally un-

Why Not Have Government Buy Cattle To Help Homesteaders?

Correspondent Tells How Entire Province Could Be Benefitted and Meat Famine Prevented.

To the editor of The Times,
Dear Sir,
Kindly allow me a little space to express my views as to what the government might do to assist the homesteader and develop the country.

The Alberta Government could buy 20,000 cows and distribute them to the homesteaders in outlying districts, along the foot hills, rivers and lakes where there is a vast amount of grazing land and abundance of hay. These cows could be distributed in lots of ten each at prices ranging about $50.00 per head, to run for eight years. It is a fact, being shipped out to the United States the government could secure it at reasonable prices and hold the stock in the country. As it is the country will have a beef famine inside of eighteen months that will cause the price to rise so high that the poor and working class of people cannot afford to buy any more meat, much less beef steak. The Province of Alberta, in ten years, would have 150,000 more cattle than are ruining at the present rate.

It would build up the stock industry so that beef would not be out of reach of the poor people. Instead of all the young stock, as it has been this fall, being shipped out to the United States the government could secure it at reasonable prices and hold the stock in the country. As it is the country will have a beef famine inside of eighteen months that will cause the price to rise so high that the poor and working class of people cannot afford to buy any more meat, much less beef steak. The Province of Alberta, in ten years, would have 150,000 more cattle than are ruining at the present rate.

This would not only apply to Alberta alone but Manitoba and Saskatchewan would be benefited under the same conditions.

An interesting case was heard before C. Shantz, J.P., on Saturday, when Inspector Parker of the provincial liquor license department, charged Jud. Peltier, of the Rossmore Hotel, Bitter Lake, with selling liquor during prohibited hours, and also employing a bartender who did not hold the necessary certificate. He pleaded guilty on both charges and was fined $50 and costs on the first charge and $50 and costs on the latter.

The bartender, Ernest Johns, was also charged with working without a license. He pleaded guilty and was assessed $50 and costs.
J. H. Robinson, through whom the Rossmore Hotel was purchased, was also adjoining the P. Burns & Co. Limited block, was sold a few months ago to The Canadian City and Town Properties Limited, of Liverpool, Eng., has just been advised that the company's architects are now engaged in the preparation of the preliminary plans for the modern hotel which they will erect on this property as soon as their conditions will permit in the spring. That these conservative Englishmen of high character have decided to make a permanent investment of some $85,000 or $100,000 in Wetaskiwin in the face of the "light" money conditions prevailing here, provides food for thought to supply the Dominion. This

They would have to build stock yards in Calgary and Edmonton, that would equal Chicago to handle the trade, and this would mean that the farmers of Alberta, who are at present time selling cattle at twenty cents a bushel, would be able to secure feeders so that they could feed all the surplus grain at home and retail all the remainder of their farms. The farmer, if he only realizes $10.00 per head clear profit, figuring a low estimate on feeding basis, selling his cattle at home and if he fed one hundred head he would have a $1000.00, where he wouldn't have at the present state of affairs. If twenty farmers within a radius of ten miles had been fed on the railway between Calgary and Edmonton, that would have been enough to handle the trade. There is enough hay going to waste every year and sold at low prices from Carleton Place to Edmonton to feed this number of cattle.

This is the chief natural resource of the country, for the cattle industry in small bunches could be handled successfully as far north as Fort Vermilion. The government would not be the object of this expenditure and industry thus encouraging the cattle industry it would make one of the wealthiest provinces of all the Dominion of Canada and thus provide food for thought to supply the Dominion. are not a new and untried remedy—our grandmothers used them. Half a century ago, before Confederation, they were sold in nearly every drug of general store in the Canada of that day, and were the recognized cure in thousands of homes for Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism and Kidney and Liver Troubles. Today they are just as effective, just as reliable as ever, and nothing better has yet been devised to cure them.

The Yearling Buck Encounters A Human

Interesting Narrative Related by Mr. C. Duncan Smith of Wetaskiwin

The following article, from the pen of Mr. C. Duncan Smith, of Wetaskiwin, which appeared in the Canadian Courier of the 22nd inst., will be read with great interest by subscribers of The Times:

The cold, grey light of the winter dawn found the young buck standing in the middle of a little thicket of birch and poplar. From the outside the unassuming eye would not have discerned his presence there. The grey-brown of his coat blended so perfectly with the dull colours of the surrounding trees that he seemed but an intangible shade—a somewhat deeper shadow among the shadows of the undergrowth.

For some little time he had been lying there, occasionally reaching out with slender neck to nibble daintily at some tempting, nearby shoot. His eyes were large and dark and of a peculiar soft and innocent expression. Those big eyes, the small and delicate muzzle and the great ears by which he failed to detect the presence of a hunter, gave him an air of once alert and inquiring. He lay not a yard from the edge of the thicket, but he seemed to be as far from it as the stars in the eastern sky. And it was, indeed, a picture of such exquisite beauty as to compel the admiration of even a creature so familiar with such scenes as the young buck. At first it was a faint, rosy flush, just above the dark line of the horizon, like the reflection of some distant fire. Gradually it grew and spread, deepening from rosy to a lurid, blood-red glow that threw out in stark relief the tall, black masts of the birch on the eastern ridge. It flamed across the heavens, touching with tints of vivid crimson to a lurid, blood-red glow that threw out in stark relief the tall, black masts of the birch on the eastern ridge. It flamed across the heavens, touching with tints of vivid crimson to a lurid, blood-red glow that threw out in stark relief the tall, black masts of the birch on the eastern ridge.

Now he seemed to be absorbed in contemplating the crimson beauty of the sunrise as it flared in the eastern sky. And it was, indeed, a picture of such exquisite beauty as to compel the admiration of even a creature so familiar with such scenes as the young buck. At first it was a faint, rosy flush, just above the dark line of the horizon, like the reflection of some distant fire. Suddenly, from somewhere in the white solitude about him, came the sound of a scuffling stick. Dendened though it was by the soft snow, the young buck heard it and his eyes flashed open, bright with alarm. But he did not stir. He did not know just where the peril might be and he knew that to betray himself by sudden movement. His head being close to the ground, he presently detected the faint sound of crunching feet-falls in the snow. Still he could not locate the danger. His bright eyes roved nervously hither and thither across the horizon of his vision.

Then, from the top of a tall tree some hundred yards back in the direction from which he had come, a couple of "whisky-jacks" dattered and screamed harshly. There was a distinct note of warning in that sudden, raucous outbreak. Confronted now of where the danger increased, the young buck cautiously moved forward, not a step, but with a nervous expectancy down his back trail.

And presently there came into view among the trees the grey-clad figure that had caused him to forsake the ridges earlier in the morning. The hunter was still doggedly following up his quarry, a little wearily, perhaps, a little more carelessly now than when he had first struck the trail at sunrise, but still full of hope and perseverance. The eyes of the young buck took a harassed look as he began to realize that this stranger was really hunting him. He stood trembling, not daring to move. Then, the man drew nearer, and circling, not between him and the wind, there came to him a whiff of peculiar scent, a scent that, though it was new to him, filled him with repugnance and maddening alarm. With a stamp of his dirty hoof and a sudden explosive snort, he sprang from his crouch, took two or three tentative jumps beyond, and then overcame by his youthful curiosity.

As for the tenderfoot, so startled was he by such a materialization of his elusive quarry, that he seemed for the moment paralysed. He forgot the weapon in his hands and stood staring open-mouthed, at the graceful apparition, about twenty yards away that gazed back at him with wide, innocent eyes. It was the first wild deer he had ever seen and the sight thrilled him through and through. When at last he remembered and raised the rifle to his shoulder, he found himself seized with a paroxysm of nervousness. His fingers, grown stiff and awkward, could not seem to find the trigger; he trembled all over; his knees quivered and shook beneath him, and the wavering, misty image of the steady. Three times he lowered the weapon and three times raised it again, in a vain effort to obtain the mastery of his nerves. And finally, in desperation, clenching his teeth and tensing every muscle in his body, he pressed the trigger, and the crash of the old battle powder forty-four shattered the silence.

Happily for the young buck, the bullet sped wide of its mark, dashing through the old battle powder, and the sudden flash, the dashing, scintillating, humming of the explosion, the whizzing racket of the missile as it passed, the wavering, misty image of the steady. And finally, in desperation, clenching his teeth and tensing every muscle in his body, he pressed the trigger, and the crash of the old battle powder forty-four shattered the silence.

THE PRODUCTION AND MARKETING OF TIMOTHY SEED IN WESTERN CANADA

by Norman Cridde

Late of the Dominion Seed Laboratory, Calgary. With the rapid spread of mixed farming in Western Canada, more particularly in the direction of live stock, problems are naturally arising regarding the production of suitable fodder crops as well as permanent pastures. The work of eliminating the weed and selecting the promising kinds has been in progress for a number of years, chiefly through the work of the various Experimental Farms and as a result several well known fodder plants have been found that are both hardy and economically productive among which timothy occupies a prominent position and is now being grown extensively throughout the West. A problem of considerable importance, however, has arisen over that area relating to the production of first class seed which has placed Western farmers at a considerable disadvantage when competing with Eastern growers both in Canada and the United States.

Basically speaking, the whole area, from the boundaries of Ontario to the Pacific Coast, produces a seed apparently is more subject to hilling in its place than the seed which is at present considered an inferior, and consequently cheaper, grade of seed. Of 270 samples graded at the Calgary Laboratory during the year ending March 31st, 1912, nearly all from the territory mentioned above, only seven graded Extra No. 1, and but twenty-three, No. 1. There are two reasons for this low standard. Firstly, the larger number of seed sown present in a majority of the samples, which according to the Seed Control Act govern to a great extent the grades. And, secondly, the general condition of the seed, this being chiefly governed by the percentage of hilled kernels, and colour.

So far as weed seeds are concerned conditions are alike throughout Canada, or at least approximately so, but either the farmers of the West have much to learn, or conditions are certainly similar for producing more hilled seed. Probably there is some truth in both these possibilities. There is little doubt that much of the seed grown in the Prairie Provinces is of larger size than that grown elsewhere, and consequently the hull rests more lightly on the kernels permitting the latter to escape. This is probably the primary cause of hilled seed in Western Canada, but there are a number of other factors which might well eliminate much of the present seed troubles. These are, (1) Improved methods of harvesting, including cutting before the seed becomes too ripe. (2) Threshing as soon as possible after cutting thus preventing seed from becoming sweated.

And (3) Care in threshing so that the seed may be threshed out of the heads without being hilled. Referring to harvesting, care must be exercised to prevent cutting too much on the green side otherwise the vitality of the seed will be injured. There is no doubt that much can be done in this way. A few of the samples graded in Alberta were of first class quality fully equaling any grown in the East and where some 15 grown were made naturally equal to those grown in the East. Some few experiments have been made which appear to demonstrate the superiority of unhilled seed but these were with Eastern and European grown seed. Whether the larger hilled seed of Alberta would compete in its extra plant food for the smaller seed with its hull on is not known but we know that Western seed has been sown, and has produced excellent stands under conditions of weather that could not be termed ideal. The question arises, however, would it produce stronger plants with the hull? If so, then the hull is an advantage. Otherwise it is not. There are many reasons to hope that most of their obstacles in the way of producing good seed will be removed, and that the West will then produce seed in second to none on the continent.

"MY ONLY MEDICINE"

Says Mrs. Corbett, Age "Fruit-a-lives"
"They Keep Me in Perfect Health"

Mrs. ANNIE A. CORBETT

AVON, ORE., May 14th, 1913.
"I have used 'Fruit-a-lives' for Indigestion and Constipation with excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I am highly pleased with 'Fruit-a-lives' and am not ashamed to have the facts published to the world. When I first started, about six years ago, to use them, I took four for a dose, but I cured myself of the above troubles and gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night. Before taking 'Fruit-a-lives' I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the disease as from these treatments. 'Fruit-a-lives' advertised with a letter in which someone recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were most satisfactory and I have no hesitation in recommending them to any other person. They have done me a world of good. I get satisfaction from the fact, and that is quite a lot." ANNE A. CORBETT.

NAME ON POST OFFICE

The following memorandum has been issued from Ottawa by the post-office department:

"It has been brought to the attention of the department that at many places the signs indicating the post office do not mention the name of the village or town in which it is situated, but simply bear the word 'post office'." "It has been pointed out that if the name of the post office was given in addition to the word 'post office' it would be of great assistance to the travelling public, but also an advertisement for the town itself. The department agrees to this and desires to recommend a standard form for the signs to be used by the masters throughout the country."

INSANE MAN COMMITTED TO ASYLUM

One of the most ghastly tragedies in the history of this portion of the province was enacted at an early hour Saturday morning on a farm situated about a mile from Ladou.

As a result of the actions of a licentious, drunken man and a woman and a girl are injured, and the man responsible for the crime has already been taken to the hospital, having lapsed into a coma.

The farm on which the tragedy was enacted is owned by Mr. J. J. Flood, who, while the members of his family were being attacked was in Edmonton.

The names of the two victims, who were fatally shot are Mrs. J. J. Flood and her daughter Bernadine, who is about 14 or 15 years of age.

The name of the man who did the shooting was Grant. He had been in Mr. Flood's employ for two years, catering his service while Mr. Flood was running a livery stable in Ladou and going out with him to the farm a year ago. Grant is about 20 years of age and unmarried. He had been drinking heavily of late, and it is believed that he was intoxicated when he started out to bring about the holocaust.

It is reported that about half past six Grant entered the kitchen of the Flood's home carrying a 22 rifle in his hands.

Mrs. Flood was the first person he encountered and he immediately pointed the weapon at her and fired, the bullet penetrating her shoulder.

There were several children in the house at the time, and on hearing the shots the youngsters hurried downstairs and ran into the kitchen where they found their mother lying on the floor, lying stretched out on the floor.

Bernadine, a girl of 14 or 15, made a dash at Grant for the purpose, it is understood, of trying to wrest the rifle from him, and prevent further shooting.

But the drink-infused Grant, raised the rifle above his head and brought it down with terrific force upon the brave girl. Bernadine was felled to the ground by the force of the impact her skull was torn open and she was rendered unconscious.

It is also reported that Grant, in a hurry then turned on two or three of the boys of Mrs. Flood, but these managed to make their escape before being next acted upon.

Grant's next act was to try and set fire to the house. He placed a mass of inflammable material under the staircase and set it alight but the flames flickered out. Proceeding to the outbuildings Grant, set these also on fire, and all the horses and cattle were burnt to death.

The madman's next and last act was to climb to the top of a straw stack, pull the muzzle of the rifle in his mouth, pull the trigger and blow out his brains.

The neighbors were apprised of what had taken place by some of the children and on hurrying to the Flood farm they immediately did all they could do for Mrs. Flood and Bernadine. Medical aid was summoned for the victims, and on the body of the would be murderer being discovered on the strawstack it was conveyed into Ladou.

MAY ORGANIZED HAIL INSURANCE OR DISTRICTS

A number of Alberta municipalities will vote at the election on December 8th on the question of the formation of a hail insurance district. Each municipality covers an area of nine townships and twenty municipalities are required to form a hail insurance district. By amendments to the Hail Insurance Act passed last session, a hail insurance commission will be appointed instead of reeves of municipalities sitting as a hail insurance board. The plan has the approval already voted in favor of a hail insurance district.

A proposal is on foot to establish a new village to the west of the City of Red Deer. Red Deer is only 360 acres in area and there is some objection to extending its boundaries so that the district lying to the west is seeking village powers in order to get some utilities. The plan has the approval of the department of the municipal affairs.

Coughed Almost All Night

With That Dry Tickling Sensation in the Throat.

A bad cough, accompanied by that distressing, tickling sensation in the throat, is the most annoying ailment. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup binds the mucous surfaces, relieves oppression and tightness of the chest, removes accumulated mucus or phlegm, soothes the inflamed membrane and discharges, securing sleep and rest at night not only to the sufferer, but to others whose rest would otherwise be broken.

Mrs. Daniel Marshall, Sasquatch Ridge N.B., writes: "Just now I am suffering from a bad cough, and I have tried many remedies but nothing has helped me. I took a severe cold, coughed almost all night with that dry, tickling sensation in my throat. The first bottle did me no much good. I thought I would try a second one, which I am pleased to say resulted in a complete cure. I can strongly recommend it to any one suffering from a cough or any throat irritation." The price of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 25c a bottle, the large family size, 50c. It is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pins (see the trade mark), and is manufactured only by The T. J. Marshall Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

HAD INDIGESTION

For Over

Ten Years.

Weakness of the body will never remedy dyspepsia or indigestion, on the contrary, all efforts should be to remedy and increase the strength.

Burdock Blood Bitters will do this and at the same time enable you to partake of all the wholesome food required without fear of any unpleasant after results.

Mr. Henry P. White, Surretville, N.B., writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion for more than ten years tried several doctors, and different medicines, but all without success. Having heard of the many cures effected by Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to give it a trial. I have taken one bottle, and I feel that I am cured at last. I can now do the same hard work I could before I was taken sick."

THE BARRIER

Carroll Ashburn, the handsome young actor who assumes the role of Tolson Ditch, the picturesque Canadian in "The Barrier", which comes to Angus theatre next Tuesday Dec. 2nd besides being a very talented actor is equally as skilled as a physician, and before taking up acting as a profession several years ago was the possessor of a lucrative medical practice in the Middle West. Brother practitioners gave his practice for out on several occasions as a result of his refusal to leave his practice for outdoor exercise and a change of climate. Ashburn finally headed the call of Mother Nature, and spent several months in the open. When he returned East, where he had spent the greater part of his boyhood it was to take up the profession of acting, judging from his remarkable success during the last six years in his forte. Mr. Ashburn has played such exacting roles as the dope fiend in "The City" Clyde Fitch's last and greatest drama and David Quirano, the eccentric musician in "The Melting Pot". His Polon Dorel in "The Barrier" is a flash of piece of work which was won for him the unstinted favor of audiences wherever he has appeared.

72 DAYS FOR A HOMESTEAD

Tuesday morning John Piper, of Red Deer, was successful in filing on the S.E. quarter of 16-38-26 West of the 4th for a homestead. The quarter is a very good one, and is situated 6 miles direct east of Red Deer. Mr. Piper has had his eye on it for a considerable time, and wrote about it at Ottawa to have it thrown open for a homestead, it having previously been held for timber land. Mr. Piper took up his stand at the doors of the Dominion land office on September 7th, and has put in twenty-two days and nights vigil to entitle him to the first chance of filing on the quarter. This probably is a record for holding down a position at the land office doors in Red Deer, or any place in the Dominion and Mr. Piper is entitled to what ever there may be in it. He says that he would not care to go through as much again for a homestead, but believes it to be worth at least $3,500 at the present time, and intends to commence building a permanent home upon it at once. He further says that he feels particularly grateful to the weather for keeping so fine and mild during the time.

IMPERIAL ENGINE

FALLS IN LAKE

Port Arthur, Nov. 21.—The engine of train No. 1, westbound passenger train, first section, jumped the rails last night east of the turn and plunged down a steep slide into a lake. The coupling broke when the engine fell and the train remained on the track.

Fireman O'Connor went down into deep water with the engine, but Engineer O'Brien escaped through the cab door just before the engine struck the water. The accident was held a mile from the place where Engineer Wheatley met death in a similar way last year.

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM

"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called inflammation of the bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor."

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me."

PROVINCIAL NEWS

The Bishop of Calgary has appointed Thursday, January 29th, 1914, for the assembly of the synod of the Diocese of Edmonton for the purpose of electing the bishop.

The biggest cattle deal in Alberta (or some time was the sale by Mannsall Bros., Ltd., of their Gressy Lake herd of 3,000 head to Mr. Harvic, the Gleichen rancher. The herd will winter at Grass Lake. The purchase price is said to be over $200,000.

In Strathcona district the other day a boy on top of a load of hay tried to light a cigarette, but lighted the hay instead, and in turning the burning material off to save the load and the wagon he started a small prairie fire which consumed two stacks. Now it is suggested that the seller of the cigs should be held responsible for the damage.—Bulletin.

Tonsil, Alta., Nov. 24.—The first drowning in nearly twenty years in Beaver Lake occurred yesterday when Clifford, ten-year-old son of Chris. Suter, slipped through a hole in the ice and was drowned. The accident occurred about three o'clock in the afternoon. Clifford and his younger brother were watering stock, not far from the shore, when the older brother saw wild ducks skimming along the surface of the ice further out. The older brother gave chase, notwithstanding the fact that his father had given instructions that the boys must keep close to shore. He chased the ducks out about without warning, dropped through the ice out of sight.

Dayland, Alta., Nov. 21.—Fire broke out in the warehouse of Whyte and Orr's hardware store. Sam Anderson was on his way home to dinner, when he saw the smoke issuing from the building. He at once gave the alarm to Mr. Orr, the proprietor. They both seized chemicals and had the fire under control before the fire engine arrived at the scene. The cause of the fire is thought to be a spontaneous combustion in a pile of burlap in the warehouse.

Notices are now out concerning the raising of debentures for the installation of a new school. A public meeting will be held within fifteen days of the board of trustees will seek permission from the department of education to borrow the money by debentures to be paid in ten annual payments.

REPORT OF CENSUS AND STATISTICS OFFICE

Ottawa, November 15. The Census and Statistics Office has issued to-day the usual bulletin upon agricultural conditions throughout Canada as reported by correspondents at the end of October. The report gives estimates of the areas, yields and values of root and fodder crops, of the area sown to fall wheat next year's harvest of the proportions of ploughing, complete tillage and of the average summer fallow in 1913.

The total area under root and fodder crops (potatoes, turnips, mangolds etc., hay and clover, alfalfa, fodder corn and sugar beets) placed at 1,593,000 acres and the total value of the products from this area at $187,339,100. The estimated total yields and values of these crops are: potatoes 76,720,000 bushels value $37,379,000; turnips and other roots 73,900,000 bushels, value $20,100,000; hay and clover 10,620,000 tons, value $11,780,000; fodder corn 2,435,000 tons, value $11,273,500; alfalfa 251,700 tons, value $2,855,500 and sugar beets 171,000 tons, value $893,000. These figures are provisional, as finally corrected returns, based on the Census of 1911, will be available for publication at the end of the year. The average yields per acre for the Dominion are reported as 175.85 bushels for potatoes as compared with 172.19 bushels last year; 254.12 bushels for turnips and other roots as compared with 402.51, 1.31 ton for hay and clover as compared with 1.47 ton, 8.54 tons for alfalfa as compared with 10.26, and 2.44 for alfalfa as compared with 2.75. It will be recalled that last year's wet season was especially favourable for roots and fodder crops. In quality all these crops are marked as about 90 or above 90 per cent of the standard, excepting fodder corn which is 85.

The potato yield is highest in New Brunswick, 244 bushels, and lowest in Ontario, 119 bushels. The area estimated to be sown to fall wheat for the crop of 1914 totals 1,086,700 acres as compared with 1,086,800 acres in 1913. This represents a net diminution for the five provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia of 80,100 acres or 7.37 per cent. The bulk of the reduction is therefore in Alberta where the acreage is estimated as 239,000 acres against 312,000 or a decrease of 83,000 acres—nearly 27 per cent. Correspondents attribute this decrease to the excessive amount of winter killing of wheat during the last season in consequence of which many farmers have given up this crop altogether. The condition of fall wheat for all Canada averages 85 per cent of a standard, Manitoba and Saskatchewan showing the best condition with 95 and 96 points respectively. The percentage of fall ploughing, completed compares well with last year, when however the conditions were exceptionally unfavourable. The percentage of fall ploughing completed in Saskatchewan to the highest of 70 in Quebec. In Manitoba and Alberta the respective percentages are 58 compared with 57 last year and 41 compared with 42.

As compared with 1912 all the provinces devoted a smaller area to summer fallowing excepting Manitoba, Edward Island and the three Northwest provinces, where the increased percentage are from 2 to 5.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEED GRAIN AND POTATOES, FROM THE DOMINION EXPERIMENTAL FARMS, 1913-1914.

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples for general distribution will consist of spring wheat (5 lbs.), white oats (4 lbs.), barley (5 lbs.) and field peas (5 lbs.). These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes (in 3 lb. samples) will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free, by mail.

Applicants must give particulars in regard to the soil on their farms, and some account of their experience with such kinds of grains (or potatoes) as they have grown, so that a promising sort for the conditions may be selected.

Each application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. Applications on any kind of printed form cannot be accepted. If two or more samples are asked for in the same lot, or only one will be sent.

As the supply of seed is limited, farmers are advised to send their applications as early as possible. Preference will always be given to the most thoughtful and experienced requests. Applications received after the end of January will probably be too late.

All applications for grain and potatoes from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec (or potatoes) should be addressed to the Dominion Cerealists, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. All applications for seed potatoes from farmers in any other province should be addressed (postage prepaid) to the TEMPERANCE COLUMN EDITED BY THE W. C. T. U.

DRINK AND BERRIES

"Ain't it just a little extravagant, Mr. T., to have strawberries for breakfast in April?" and Jim Ford looked a bit apprehensively at his meek little wife.

"Oh, I don't know as 'tis!" replied the meek little wife with just a touch of something that was not grief in her eyes. "The berries cost fifteen cents yesterday, 'n' there's enough for it, Junior, the lady 'n' me—each a dish too. They make our plain bread—batter meal a little bit appetizing, 'n' they don't cost any more 'n' your three beers do that you 'doww' all by yourself. You might share with us 'onee' in a while without being much of a crank. Yes, I will stay here for it, I guess," and Mrs. Ford looked Jim square in the eye, pleasantly.

With some determination apparent, Mr. T. adged uneasily, but said nothing for that phrase, "three beers," had caught his attention and held it. Jim wasn't a bad sort of a man, and he really loved his family, but with his moderate salary high cost of living and rather free-and-easy way with money, the family had been living rather narrowly, first one thing and then another being cut out of the rans; so he was a little startled when he saw the strawberries on the breakfast table so early in the season. He finished his breakfast, and after kissing his wife and babies good-bye said to her: "Get some more berries for tomorrow, Mr. T., please; they're good for all of us and especially for me, for I'm inclined to think they may reduce my appetite for beer. I hope so," and he hurried away for fear the tell-tale lightning in his wife's eyes would break him up. But he didn't take any beer with his lunch that day, nor on his way home, and that was the beginning of Jim Ford's choice between beer for himself and berries for the family.

Perhaps more wives and mothers can inaugurate a similar "division of good life"—National Advocate.

WHAT WRECKED THE BANK

In the office of the Bank Commissioner, J. N. Foley, of Kansas, is a memo of the recent bank failure at Holyrood. It is one of the familiar pint whisky bottles covered with waterwork and tied with heavy ribbon. It is one of hundreds found in the vault, and in the drawers of the Holyrood Bank by the examiner, who applied in the night place and found it. On the paper were three words: "This is what wrecked the bank."

"That will wreck any bank, if applied in the right place and frequently enough," said Commissioner Doley.

Town Topics

Knox Literary Society will hold their first social next Wednesday evening, December 3rd, beginning at 8 p.m. All the young people are cordially invited and are asked to wear something representing a well known town.

Medicine Hat, Nov. 24.—A Nelson a bozo, goes to Edmonton penitentiary for five years for firing at Engineer Graham, a C.P.R. The charge was attempted murder and the offence which the jury returned a verdict of guilty occurred at Pelly, Alberta, on November 7.

K.C. and Mrs. P. L. Talbot returned on Monday from spending a few days at the latter's parents near Pigeon Lake. They say his name is quite pleasant in the west country, although he did not get in as much of the big sport. He secured a large number of rabbits, however.

The local hardware man should take note that the new Dominion law relating to the sale of fireworks is in force. On Friday last, before Police Magistrate Hoffmann, a storekeeper of a nearby town was fined $25 and costs for selling fireworks to a purchaser who had no permission to carry the same.

The boy who applies for a job may have to answer many questions, but there are four that no prospective employer will ask him. They are these: "Are you a skillful shooter?" "Do you play cards well?" "Can you handle a billiard cue dexterously?" "What is your favorite cocktail?"—Youth's Companion.

Chief Anderson, laid charges of gambling against Red Deer residents before Mr. John Wallace, J.P., on Tuesday as a result of a raid the police made on the Palace building at 1:30 a.m. Saturday. The accused pleaded guilty and were fined $20 and costs each and the money found on the table, $96, confiscated for the good of the city.

A prairie fire started about four miles west of Markerville on Tuesday and before it was got under control had destroyed about 500 tons of hay. Anerson Bros., G. Fluke, S. P. Rhodes, B. Baker and L. Cook were the heavy losers and H. Nicholson lost his chicken. The fire is supposed to have been started by a child carrying a piece of lighted paper from the schoolhouse.

C. H. Bradley, manager of the Swift Canadian company, Edmonton, announced that the poultry business has nearly doubled during the last 12 months. The company will probably have to import turkeys, geese and ducks from the United States. The supply of chickens grown locally is adequate to the demands. Mr. Bradley reports that prices of poultry and eggs will be higher than last year.

Hon. John H. Boyle, minister of education for Alberta, is against the wholesale shipment of fossils and mammoths excavated by American scientists in the Red Deer River Valley. Mr. Boyle has been investigating the subject and had a report made by R. W. Brock, head of the geological department, and as a result he has decided to introduce legislation the coming session of the Dominion Parliament.

H. D. Farris of Spokane, Wash., arrived in the city a few days ago to shake hands with his many old-time friends as well as meet after business interests in the central part of the province. Mr. Farris is now interested in the Kiste Powder Company, which he claims is the safest explosive on the market to-day, and is more powerful than dynamite, and is considerably cheaper. Mr. Farris sees a great improvement in the city since he left about five years ago, and he says he is delighted to get back on a visit to his many friends and relatives.
